Organization

Located at Rua Embau, 95, the CETE was founded in December 1997 as a division of the Orthopedic Department at the Federal University of São Paulo. At present, the main center has three rooms for patient visits. The university offers rooms for weekly meetings and personnel administration. We have two rehabilitation centers that are situated about one mile from the university and are available for the physical therapy programs.

We provide medical assistance for 2,000 athletes who are regularly involved in competitions in most of the sports activities practiced in our country (soccer, tennis, volleyball, track and field, handball, gymnastics, and swimming, among others).

The surgical treatments are performed at the University Hospital. We participate monthly in the scientific meetings at the Department of Orthopaedics. The meetings give us the opportunity to present our ongoing studies in the orthopaedic sports medicine field.

At the moment, we are developing 30 scientific studies in the areas of knee, shoulder, ankle, elbow, wrist, hip and trauma. Ten projects are underway concerning rehabilitation for sports injuries; they also involve strategies for injury prevention.

The studies are coordinated by Dr. Moises Cohen and Dr. Rene Abdalla.
